Capel Curig Hut Meet

Helyg Hut - The Climbers Club

Climbing: - There is simply masses of rock in this valley, and nearly all of it is covered in routes with the greatest concentration of routes is around Llyn Idwal and Tryfan. The crags are all are easily accessible with Milestone Buttress; Idwal Slabs; Little Tryfan etc. on the door. This meet is primarily for climbers and will be of particular interest to beginners as a lot of the routes are extremely do-able. We'll have a good selection of experienced climbers here to help you and show the ropes. Helyg (now a Grade 2 listed building) is steeped in the history of British climbing. It was used as a base by the pioneers of British climbing in the 1920's for their early ascents, particularly on Lliwedd and Tryfan. Later it was used as a training base for the 1953 Everest expedition and the 2020 HMC Meet!

Walking: Tryfan; Moel Siabod, Snowdon, The Glyders, The Carneddws. High level or Low level. A prime location to tackle any of these fantastic hills, and, if it takes you - some really great scrambling routes too.

BEDS 13: Mixed. Facilities include hot water, showers, heating, drying room, cutlery, crockery, fridges, oven, hobs, and microwave.
COST: £20 for the weekend, plus around £3 /£4 for a two course dinner Sat night if we self cater. Bring your own beer or wine (or tea) and don't forget your other food for Fri/Sat out on the crags.
STUFF you need to know: Don't forget your sleeping bag, harness and sun tan lotion. A traditional hut full of charm and character.
BEST PUB : By far, the Tan Y Coed in Capel but Pas y Brenin is excellent and much nearer for food.
